Mystery Auto in Deep Pool; Bodies Sought

Bathers See Motor in Twenty Feet of Water
North of Hinsdale.

EFFORTS TO RAISE FAIL

Lying in twenty feet of water at the bottom of an old abandoned stone pit known as the Torde quarry, three miles north of Hinsdale, is an automobile. Just how it got there and how many people were in the car at the time it took its plunge is a mystery.

Four young men who went to the quarry to take a swim discovered the car about noon yesterday and notified Chief J. W. Nicholson of Hinsdale.

Chief Nicholson arrived on the scene with John A. Ford, tackle and grapple men were used in an effort to raise the car, and two young men, Harvey Conover and Ralph Hand, succeeded in fastening a tackle to the steering gear and windshield but both men broke under the pressure, and several of the grapple men were injured.

He was arrested yesterday because he failed to pay a bill for $32.70 at the Hotel Sherman. He paid his bill because two men who had indulged too heavily in intoxicants occupied a booth, the only place of furniture in the cell.

The five who lost their lives were hurled from the bridge to the roadway below. The car, which was a 1915 model, was hurled from the bridge to the roadway below.

ELECTRIC KILLS FOUR AUTOISTS IN LAKE FOREST

Joseph Walsh Backs Car with Wife, Daughter, and Guest into 'Limited.'

GOING 50 MILES HOUR.

All four members of a Sunday automobile party were killed yesterday when their machine was struck by a speeding Chicago and Milwaukee electric train at the Farwell avenue crossing in Lake Forest.

News of the tragedy spread rapidly, for the names of the victims were not known for many hours, and efforts to identify them were made all along the north shore. Many impromptu indignation meetings were held as the facts were told, because of the long list of fatalities at various crossings during recent months since the road passed from the control of the federal courts and of Judge Landis, whose order restricted the speed of trains.

A member of the Lake Forest council, who would not permit his name to be used until after the accident, that action against the road may be taken at the council's next meeting.

JOSEPH WALSH FAMILY.
Through the wrecked car the Chicago police finally learned that the victims were Joseph Walsh, a teaming contractor of 1514 Washington boulevard; his wife, his daughter, Bessie, 11 years old; and Lorne Blonch, 13 years old, a friend of the Walsh girl and a pupil at the McKinley High school.

The four were on their way to Waukegan, where Walsh had business with Theodore Miller, another contractor. They reached the crossing in Lake Forest shortly before 2 o'clock. Walsh, who was driving, had crossed the tracks of the electric road and was approaching those of the Northwestern railway beyond, when he saw that the roadway on the other side was being repaired and was barricaded.

RACES CAN BEFORE TRAIN

He stopped, therefore, and started to back his machine over the electric tracks. A north bound Milwaukee electric "limited" train, approaching at fifty miles an hour, caught the automobile squarely and flung part of it against the posts of the Farwell avenue station.

The back of the machine, with the three women in it, was carried 50 feet down the tracks on the front of the forward car.

John Niemeyer, who saw the accident from the porch of his home nearby, found that the woman had been killed instantly. Walsh was alive when he was picked up, but died three hours later at the Allen Home hospital in Lake Forest.

Walsh evidently was a good driver, said Niemeyer. "The motorist of the train whistled when he was 100 feet away. There wasn't a scream from any of them."

KILLS BLUE ISLAND MAN.
Carl Hugs, one of the oldest residents of Blue Island, was killed shortly after noon when the automobile in which he was riding was struck by an Illinois Central suburban train, about half a mile north of Matteson, Ill.

The Hugs family, Mrs. Hugs, and the latter's three children, Ernest, J. Lawrence, and Margaret, 2 months old, were badly injured.

All the Illinois Central hospital in Chicago, where the injured were taken to, today. It was said that Margaret, the baby, probably will die. Her skull is believed to have been fractured.

Pinner was proud of several sofa pillows made by his fiancée. His sister Stella jokingly said to him: "I can make nice pillows than August's."

Yesterday his clothes were found on the river bank. Police recovered the body.

Late this afternoon it was reported that the German submarine Bremen had been sighted off Fisher's Island in Long Island sound. The coast-guard tug "A. Scott Jr." with representatives of the Eastern Forwarding company on board, put to sea to search for the U-boat.

A newspaper the followed, but after a two hour search both boats returned. It being then reported that no submarine had been sighted, as removed. In the meanwhile a heavy fog had settled over the water.

The vessel just sighted at Ocean Beach was seen during a temporary lifting of the fog.

ONE WOMAN SAVED FROM BAND'S GRIP BY RAID

Five Chicagoans Known to Be Victims of Extortion Syndicate.

HIGH COST OF FOLLY.

BY WALTER NOBLE BURNS.

An innocent woman was rescued last night from the designs of the "Mann act syndicate" which was broken up Saturday by the raid of United States agents of the department of justice on the Tyson apartments, 4347 Grand boulevard.

The woman who was rescued is said to be Mrs. Noel Loebl. She is the wife of the clerk of court of Little Rock, Ark. She had been sent to Chicago by her husband for the summer. Russell, one of the members of the syndicate, had fastened his lips upon her, according to the government officials, and was thwarted just in time. Last night Mrs. Loebl was guarded from such mishaps of the syndicate as might be at hand.

She arrived about 10 o'clock at the Tyson with her two children, and was met by the police, guarding Mrs. Loebl. She was the wife of one of the judges, was Dave first.

PHILADELPHIA CHICAGOANS FOLLOWED BY CHICAGOANS

Philadelphia residents of the international blackmail syndicate have been at least five wealthy and socially prominent Chicagoans out of $10,000 each since the first of the year.

Two of their easy Chicago victims were women. This was one of the puzzling angles of yesterday's developments in the investigation of the nation wide operations of one of the boldest and cleverest criminal organizations ever brought to book in the United States.

From a New Yorker, distinguished alike in society, the church, and the business world, they obtained $40,000 in cash at one haul.

By threats of exposing an affair with one of the snags and handsome members of the gang, they frightened a Philadelphia woman of great wealth and social distinction into giving them $35,000.

CHICAGO VICTIMS KEPT SECRET

The names of the Chicago men and women swindled by the sharper are known to Hunter G. Clabaugh, division chief of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice. But he has not disclosed them and says he will keep them secret. No indication of their identity was given out.

While eight arrests were made in the Grand boulevard raid, it developed that the "syndicate" had at least sixty members throughout the country, one-third of whom are women. The headquarters of the gang are in Chicago, New York and Philadelphia.

The organization has worked at a whole since the first of the year. It is believed the sharper have cleaned up in that time $1,000,000. The government officials are frank to admit that for one known victim of the blackmailers there are probably twenty unknown. The known profits of the gang are said to total $250,000.

Among victims in Chicago, Philadelphia and New York cities are said to be of the highest social station. Several are declared to be millionaires.

ONLY 3 WILLING TO TESTIFY

Mr. Clabaugh said that only three victims of the blackmailers in the entire United States had declared themselves willing to face publicity and testify against the criminals.

One of them ready to tell is Mrs. Russell, who was the victim of the Grand boulevard raid. She is said to be one of the highest social station. Several are declared to be millionaires.

CLABAUGH'S WARNING: BEWARE OF STRANGERS

"There is a warning in every line of this story which the public should know and heed," said Hunter G. Clabaugh, special agent of the department of justice, who headed up the blackmailing syndicate. "Beware of strangers, men or women. Beware of a symposium of some of the exploits of these polished criminals."

They secured a multimillionaire of New York out of $40,000 by threatening him with arrest for violating the Mann act.

They frightened a wealthy Philadelphia married woman who had been sent to Chicago by her husband for the summer into giving them $35,000.

They took $10,000 from each of five Chicagoans, two of whom are women.

They brought about their own arrest by taking $15,000—the last cent she had—from Mrs. Russell, a Chicagoan of Philadelphia.

They kidnaped Mrs. Clapper, who had the nerve to declare she would be a witness against them, and ran her off to Montreal where they held her prisoner.

They are said to have stolen $100,000 from a Chicagoan, but have not been caught since.

They have been in the country since the war broke out and are said to be well known to the police.

They had a little money—Mrs. Russell's $15,000, Mrs. Clapper's $15,000, and the $10,000 from each of the five Chicagoans.

WOMEN LURE THE "BUCKERS"

"Every man in this bunch," said Detective Sgt. William Croft, "had a down side, better than a girl's, and what looked to me like a fortune in neckties. I never saw as many good clothes in my life."

Three women are among the prisoners. They are Helen Rivers, Mrs. Edward Donohue, and Mrs. Frances Chapman or Allen. They are young and pretty and are said to have been the lure by which the men lured the "buckers" into their clutches. The favorite hunting grounds of these women, it is said, have been Peacock alley and the Pompadour room in the Congress hotel and the tea saloon at the Blackstone.

WOMEN SIDE WOMAN RESCUED.

On the morning of the raid, Hunter G. Clabaugh, one of the most distinguished looking of the syndicate, was shadowed by secret service men while he strolled in Washington park with a north side woman said to be wealthy and well known socially. Russell had a camera strapped across his shoulder.

"I guess we saved that woman from getting trimmed," said Mr. Clabaugh. On the same day Mrs. Rivers drove up to the Tyson in a limousine with a tall, well groomed man with a strong grip mustache. She dropped it casually that her companion was "Major Thompson's brother." This man is said to be one of the gang, but for reasons of policy was not arrested.

76 CHICAGO VICTIMS.

The number of Chicago victims of the blackmailers is estimated at from seventy-five to 100. Secret service officials refused to hazard a guess at the amount of money the crooks swept into their coffers in the city. They know the names of five.

"They are not there," said Mr. Clabaugh. "I know of two; one who was supposed to be only $500. That was the smallest. But the last smallest was $50,000. The largest was $100,000. The average is $10,000. Their biggest haul was in New York and Philadelphia."

New detectives from detective headquarters, copied names of the men, and started in the country. In their knowledge of confidence men and evidence of high rank and degree, assisted the secret service men in the Grand boulevard raid. These were Detective Sgt. Croft, Sgt. William Croft, James McCarty, Frank Altmeyer, and Frank Welling. Mr. Clabaugh remarked that the work in Chicago was the most successful of the operation.

He said that the syndicate was a very successful one in the country. He said that the syndicate was a very successful one in the country.

FOUR OF THE "GANG" AT ATLANTIC CITY

could leave the building or come into it without one of his men overhearing it. He placed photographs in several rooms, and the people he wanted were in their rooms. Then he struck.

Of the women arrested Helen Evers is said to be the cleverest. She is the daughter of a Chicago physician. She has a sister named Marie, and they have been known in the city's underworld. They lived recently at the Hotel Warner. Before that they had roomed in the Grove hotel. Helen had lived at the Tyson for several months. She is the wife of George Irwin.

It was in her apartment which she shared with Mrs. Frances Chapman and Allen that the raiders found an opium smoking layout. It was said she and her companion had been "hitting the p.".

MRS. EVERS DENIES GUILTY.

"I don't understand why they have arrested me," said Mrs. Evers in the county jail. "I have not been out of Chicago for four or five years. I never was in Philadelphia or New York. I barely know Russell, Donohue, Christian, Crocker and Blund. I have never been intimately associated with them."

Mrs. Evers has big brown eyes and red lips and is beautiful. She wore a walking suit of the latest mode. Her skin is of a creamy whiteness and she has a stunning figure.

Mrs. Edward Donohue is said to be a friend of underworld wisdom. The members of the gang are reported to have consulted her whenever about to venture upon some criminal enterprise. It is believed she planned the kidnaping of Mrs. Clippard.

Grass Arrest in St. Louis.

Mr. Clough telegraphed to St. Louis at night to arrest a red-haired girl known as Gretchen, whose real name is May Traub. She is at 2008 Olive street in the Missouri city. In the room of one of the members of the gang Mr. Clough found a letter from Mrs. Traub. It said:

"Give my regards to the syndicate. I am sorry I have been detained here. I will come to the city as soon as I can. The red-haired girl is said to be one of the band's most attractive 'bits' for blackmail purposes."

Mr. Clough's men found hundreds of letters and telegrams and scores of photographs in the rooms of the prisoners. The photographs were of men and women hugging and kissing and in various postures in which men and women never wish to be photographed. These pictures, it is said, were managed by the blackmailed to be used to force hush money from their victims.

St. Louis Man a Victim.

A gray-haired, elderly man from St. Louis, who wore nose glasses, was a recent victim. He was fascinated by one of the girls as she rested a limp eye upon him in a car. She lured him to a hotel apartment.

Suddenly came loud knocks at the door. In burst an irate "husband." He called "detectives," who threatened immediate arrest. The old man "came across" with a satisfactory sum—the exact amount not known. Later the conspirators over their wine roared with laughter at the fun they had had with "Uncle Sam."

The three apartments, in which the blackmailed lived, are extremely respectable. The management makes a special effort to keep the apartments high class. It depends the fact that these undesirable "guests" establish themselves there before their true character could be learned.

Most members of the syndicate represented themselves to their victims as high-society business men. They showed themselves that explained the reason for their being out of town at various times.

THE "SYNDICATE"

The blackmailed "syndicate," as its members call it, "gang" being the phrase used for these parties, is believed by the government authorities to number sixty. A third of them are said to be women—young, pretty, and intelligent.

Those arrested in Saturday night's raid on the Tyson apartments—Henry Russell, Edward Donohue, James Christian, George Blund, Frank Crocker, Mrs. Helen Evers, Mrs. Edward Donohue, and Mrs. Frances Chapman, alias Allen—will be tried in Philadelphia.

They will have a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Frank Garbarino in that city which will start in Chicago this afternoon to take the prisoners back there.

In addition, George Irwin was arrested in Chicago in June during the week of the Republican national convention. He was released on $5,000 bond. Homer T. French also was arrested in June. He was not held, but was put on parole to Mr. Clough. He is still in Chicago and has been reporting to Mr. Clough every week.

William Butler was arrested two weeks ago in this city, charged with the kidnaping of Mrs. Regina Clippard of Philadelphia. He was released on $15,000 bond. His mother was accepted on his bond. She scheduled $7,000 worth of Chicago real estate. Butler's trial began in Philadelphia today. He is said to have left Chicago for that city on Saturday.

The prisoners will be tried on three charges—kidnaping, blackmail, and conspiracy. Kidnaping carries a penalty of six years or a $5,000 fine; blackmail one year or a $2,000 fine; conspiracy two years or $10,000 fine.

THE KIDNAPING

All the indictments are based on the Mrs. Regina Clippard case. Mrs. Clippard is a Philadelphia woman. She is one of the few of many men and women blackmailed by these sharpers who has had the nerve to tell her story to officials of the United States secret service.

Mrs. Clippard was "spotted" by the "syndicate" as a wealthy woman not over to going on for a pleasant evening in the cafe. One of the handsome and smoothest of the crooks was detailed to make love to her and entangle her in some embarrassing situation. The man succeeded in the "whiff" did it artistically. Mrs. Clippard, dressed with him, danced with him, and at last found herself in a situation which would appear compromising to a suspicious public.

Pose as Secret Service Men.

Other members of the gang appeared at the psychological moment and, representing themselves as government secret service agents, frightened her with a threat of arrest and exposure. The thieves expected to get a large sum of money. They found Mrs. Clippard was not the wealthy woman they had thought her. But she was willing to pay what she had as hush money. She handed over $5,000.

Then she thought it over and decided she would risk publicity in a desperate effort to get her money back. She went to Frank Garbarino, special agent of the department of justice in Philadelphia, and told him all about her adventure. It was on her evidence that word was sent out all over the country for the arrest of members of the gang.

Mr. Clough in his work on this complicated conspiracy considers his re-

MAY TRAUB

Another Member of the Syndicate Trained to St. Louis.

Irwin went at once to Philadelphia. There he held a council of war with chiefs of the blackmailed organization. It was decided that something must be done to silence Mrs. Clippard. Murder, it is said, was talked of. This was voted down. At last it was determined to kidnap her. Irwin and Butler were detailed to this delicate assignment.

Just at the time when their plans were ripe Special Agent Garbarino telephoned Mrs. Clippard that she was wanted in Chicago as a witness. She agreed readily to go.

Tap Her Telephone Wires.

But the blackmailed had had her telephone wire tapped. They heard Mr. Garbarino's summons. It was their opportunity. That very afternoon Irwin and Butler drove up to her front door in a taxicab. They rang the bell and the maid showed them into the parlor. The two crooks showed the stars of secret service men. They explained to

Mrs. Clippard she was wanted to give testimony against the men who had blackmailed her. She went with them gladly. They handed her into a waiting taxicab. She was rushed to the depot. The train took her and her two abductors to New York.

There a New Yorker saw her in the depot in custody of the two crooks. He knew them for what they were, but he was powerless at the time to assist their captive. He will be used as a witness at the trials. By the time he could communicate with the New York police Irwin and Butler had Mrs. Clippard well on the way to Canada.

Held in Montreal.

They took her to Montreal, where they held her. It is said they again beguiled her into a compromising situation. Mr. Garbarino finally located Mrs. Clippard. He hurried some of his detectives to Montreal and they rescued the woman and brought her back to Philadelphia.

Since then her home has been guarded by secret service men to prevent the criminals from kidnaping her or doing her harm.

Erstein in Quick Move.

On the day Mrs. Clippard was kidnaped, Charles E. Erstein, attorney for Irwin, rushed into court and asked to have the case against his client dismissed. Mr. Clough knew Mrs. Clippard—the only witness—had disappeared, but he succeeded in keeping the case on the docket, because he still had a witness—his own. The New Yorker who saw them posing as government officers, said Mr. Clough, "how Mr. Erstein learned of the kidnaping so quickly."

THE $40,000 CASE

The case in which one of New York's multimillionaires was blackmailed out of $40,000 at one swoop is typical of the methods of the gang.

This wealthy man is said to be the president of several New York banks. He lives in a stately mansion on Fifth avenue. His wife is a proud woman—proof of her wealth and social station. His two daughters are in society. He is said to be a pillar in an exclusive church—a deacon or elder.

Members of the gang learned that this man was in the habit of going to Atlantic City to spend his weekends. They had nothing "on him." But they thought these weekly trips to the gay seaside resort might be worth investigating.

On a Saturday afternoon two young men, dapper and well-dressed, sat just behind their quarry when the Pennsylvania train pulled out of the New York station for Atlantic City.

When the train arrived in the seaside resort the multimillionaire was greeted enthusiastically in the depot by a beautiful young woman. Together they stepped into a cab and were whirled away to one of the quiet but expensive hotels.

"$100,000, Please"

That was enough for the sharpers. Late in the afternoon the New York banker and his lamorata strolled along the board walk. They took a dip in the surf and had dinner together behind some palms in the quietest corner of the dining room, and then—

Late at night, or possibly next day—whenever the right moment had arrived—the two dapper young men took the elevator in the quiet hotel and got off at the floor which the banker was staying. They listened a moment at the door of his room. Laughter and the clinking of glasses met their ears. They rapped loudly. Silence for a moment. Then a frightened old gentleman poked his head out the door.

Secret Service Agents!

"Pardon us for disturbing you, but we must do our duty. We are agents of the government secret service."

They threw back their coats and revealed badges. One drew from his pocket a paper and held it at full length beneath the old man's eyes.

"We have here a warrant for your arrest. We have made an investigation and learned that your young woman companion is from New York. This is New Jersey. She has crossed several state lines to come to you. You are guilty of a violation of the Mann white slave act."

Bribe Them! Never!

The thoroughly frightened banker begged to be let off.

"Come, now; what will you take to drop this case?"

"One hundred thousand dollars," he said to have been the cool reply.

"It was too much. The multimillionaire begged. In the end the swindlers agreed to accept $40,000. Would they take a check? Absolutely no—under no circumstances.

The sharpers solved the problem finally by agreeing to go back to New York with their victim. It was a bold thing to do, but they had their reward. The banker paid them $40,000 in cold cash next day.

THE $15,000 WOMAN

Then there is the affair of the wealthy Philadelphia woman who was robbed of $15,000. She is said to be a member of one of the city's best families. She formerly summered abroad, before the war made Europe undesirable for pleasure tours, and spends her winters at Palm Beach. Still on the sunny side of 40, she is married to a steel and semiprecious business man.

This woman has in her a very human streak, which manifests itself in a weakness for pleasure to be enjoyed only where bright lights are flashing. It was her custom in the afternoon to go to a café, sit with certain friends, drink highballs, listen to the music, and watch the cabaret. On these occasions she was not averse to a one-step or a fox trot with a young man, provided he were properly introduced.

A Handsome Swindler.

The one selected to essay the delicate task of ingratiating himself with Mrs. Moneybags was the handsome member of the gang. He had been to college in days before he fell from grace he had acquired a certain social aplomb. He wore his clothes well and his address was polished. He talked interestingly, had the manners of one used to a drawing room and danced like a dancing master.

He managed to have it bruited about among habitués of the café that he was a son of a Wall street plutocrat, whose name doesn't matter here. He forged a letter. It is said, from another wealthy New Yorker, which he showed about and which seemed to prove that he was a social favorite among the "Four Hundred" of the metropolis.

With her first highball, the woman of wealth found the young man interesting. With her fifth or eleventh, she found him altogether fascinating. His sophistication charmed her. His slang amused her. His dancing was a joy.

He Entrails Her.

So the affair drifted toward the quick-sands. The young sharper knew how to make love. He did it with fire and impetuosity. The woman—she was at least ten years his senior—was captivated.

One evening as she stepped out of a hotel on the arm of her cavalier two men trailed her in the shadows. After she had entered her home they rang the bell. They were detectives, they said, and must see her.

In her drawing room she was told they knew all about her affair in every intimate detail. They would arrest her unless she paid. She agreed to pay. Next day the two men called again. When they left they had $15,000 in bills tucked away in their inside pockets.

HOW THE SHOE MODES for WOMEN ARE MADE IN AMERICA

It is a well known fact that the shoe fashions of each recurring season are correctly interpreted and first shown in New York and Chicago by

Martin & Martin

Our position in the shoe trade is unique. As the largest makers as well as retailers of exclusively fine shoes, our models naturally are a source of interest and inspiration to other makers. To a very great extent these makers wait to see the Martin & Martin models before making up their stock.

As this takes time, the important changes in the modes are shown in our own retail stores a whole season in advance.

WHO MAKES THE STYLES?

It is our patrons who really establish the modes. "The mode" is what the best dressed women are wearing—and our business is to know in advance what they will wear next.

Fashion is an evolution from season to season—and the shoe fashions are more or less a reflection of the prevailing modes in other apparel.

Our advantage lies in the fact that—as retailers—we are in constant touch with that clientele which really establishes the trend of fashion—and as manufacturers we are able to carry out promptly and accurately the ideas which each season develops.

Certainty of correctness in shoe and style while it is still new and exclusive—are as much a feature of Martin & Martin shoe service as perfection of fit and guaranteed wearing quality. Our present stocks are complete.

Hosiery, too.

"WIRE TAPPING" PART OF SYSTEM OF "SYNDICATE"

Color Codes, Cryptic Letters,
"Fake" Clippings Bare Methods of Gang.

BY AUSTIN O'MALLEY.

Questions of the national Irwin-Butler-Donohue gang, exposed by the Chicago Daily Tribune, were not confined to blackmail. The effects found in "Do" were the effects of a system of "wire tapping" and letterheads of the "United Turf Exchange" with "headquarters" in New York and offices all over the world.

There were also other codes for deciphering messages received by wire tapping what horse to bet on, how much to bet, what race to play, and positions in the race.

These "come ons," it is believed, were used to lure innocent victims, who were unfamiliar with the workings of the race track, to bet fortunes on races approved by the gang.

Wire to Arrest in Los Angeles.

One wire message found in Mrs. Helen Evers' room had the secret service man in Los Angeles for the arrest of the sender. It was dated Sept. 3 and addressed to Mrs. Evers. It read:

"Simon says thumbs up. Two men are holding me. Watch the man escape."

A letter received by Mrs. Evers stated that the writer, who signed himself "May Traub," was inquiring some money and was glad that she would soon be back with the syndicate.

She is believed to be another member of the gang, who had been sent to another city for blackmailing purposes.

Sorry About Notoriety.

A letter from the "Horseman's association" of 1408 Market street, Louisville, Ky., signed by J. C. Salisbury, secretary, and addressed to A. T. Karger, was found in Donohue's room. The secretary said he was sorry to hear of Mr. Karger's notoriety lately and hoped that he wouldn't have another occurrence like that again.

It appears that "Mr. Karger's" picture had appeared in a newspaper in connection with the making of a book on the race.

Another letter was from Louisville, Ky., and addressed to "Friend John." It was signed Col. J. W. Bremer. The writer said he had met John's father on the street and was asking the liberty to ask a favor of John. The colonel wanted John to buy about $25,000 worth of land for him, so that he could establish his son on it and get him away from his present associates.

"Exchange" an Exclusive Affair.

The "United Turf Exchange" seems to be an exclusive affair. On one of the membership cards, signed by the signature of "Perry Belmont," New York millionaire, a president.

The value of the membership card is estimated in the evening mail as being at least $100,000.

The letterhead gives the names of every important city in Canada and the United States, as the location of a branch office.

The "Alphabet for Code."

Evidently the "Horseman's association" is known as a "code" book. The manner of using the alphabet for their code follows:

Letter Means Letter Means

A ..... all ..... no
B ..... boy ..... yes
C ..... cat ..... no
D ..... dog ..... yes
E ..... egg ..... no
F ..... fish ..... yes
G ..... goat ..... no

J ..... jam ..... yes
K ..... key ..... no
L ..... leg ..... yes
M ..... man ..... no N ..... nose ..... yes

P ..... pig ..... yes
Q ..... queen ..... no

No Limit on Wagers.

Tables showing the amounts to bet were found in the "Do" room. They ran from $100 to $100,000. If the bettor wanted to place $50,000 on a horse, he would order fifty boxes of red, white, or blue matches, the color depending on the position to bet on the horse—viz., straight, blue, place, white, show.

Condition of the track is described as follows: Dry, fast; muddy, slow, medium, etc.

If all these elaborate systems were not enough to beguile the "sucker," the fake newspaper clipping was flashed.

One of "Come On" Clippings.

The syndicate had many of these printed. The headline stated that a "young eastern plumber" cleaned up $50,000 from Seattle, Wash., poolrooms.

Identity of man not known to local gambling fraternity.

Then the story went on that all efforts to get information from him had been fruitless. He had gone to every big poolroom in the city and placed thousands of dollars with the "bookies" on certain horses. He never lost a bet.

That he received inside information was not from the fact that yesterday at the California club, an exclusive gambling place, he had backed "Close" in the fourth race from 15 to 1 down to 1 in 1, and she won by three lengths.

The intended victim would be shown the clipping. "Do" Donohue, the federal collector believes, would claim that he was the man who had won the race. This would be enough for the sucker. He would place his all with the "Do," who had all the inside information, and never see it again.

Now the Name Was Worked.

One of the gang with a "sucker" in mind, met Donohue in Jackson park, and Detective Sgt. McFarland, who was on the raid, saw the man.

Donohue was wearing a thick roll of bills. The man recognized him. That's the guy that cleaned the bookmakers at Film Exchange of $50,000, he confided to the man.

Donohue was in Donohue. "I am not going to let you have the pleasure of knowing," said Donohue, "that you are a sucker."

"I am not," replied Donohue, "I am not a sucker. I am the friend of Donohue W. Belmont."

"Do you know Donohue W. Belmont?"

"No," said Donohue, "I don't know him. I am not a sucker. I am the friend of Donohue W. Belmont."

HOW THE "SUCKERS" ARE TRIMMED

Being an Accumulation of "Wire Tapping" Evidence Found in Office of Irwin-Butler-Donohue Gang; Four of the Members; the Hotel Residence.

1. One of a thousand or more betting slips found in the room of Dr. Edward Donohue, indicating perhaps where some of the $200,000 earnings of the international blackmail syndicate were squandered. The slips indicated bets running from $50 to $10,000.

2. Dr. Edward Donohue himself, a six foot handsome, deep voiced, intelligent crook of fiction. He is credited with being master of the wire tapping game, the flat joint, the match game, all the ways for extracting money from the species which is born every minute.

3. Fake membership cards in the United Turf Exchange, indicating Dr. Donohue sometimes posed as the multimillionaire New York horseman, Perry Belmont, and as Belmont lured cards to the suckers whom he wanted to run in his wire tapping joints.

4. George Irwin, husband of Helen Evers, and one of the syndicate's leaders in Mann set blackmail.

5. W. C. Woodward, the big chief, who is not yet arrested, but is expected to surrender himself today.

6. The handsome apartment building on Grand boulevard into which these polished swindlers secured admission through forged references. It is no discredit to the discriminating management of the building that the crooks were caught there. They also lived at the Blackstone, frequented the Congress, the Warner, and many other of Chicago's respectable hostels.

7. A "fake" newspaper clipping, indicating Dr. Donohue had won $50,000 through superior information as to which horse would win.

8. This clipping would convince the average sucker that he could safely risk his money with the wire tappers.

Paris Labeled Perfumes.

The finest of toilet waters and perfumes were used by these charmers. Some of the bottles bore the labels of famous Parisian manufacturers.

Manicure sets of sterling silver and gold banded cigar holders lay in ivory cases.

Fifty suits of clothes, made by the most expensive tailors in the country, hung in the closet of Henry "Aliek" Russell. There was everything from a Prince Albert to a swimming suit.

Attaches of the apartment building noticed that Russell wore a different suit every day. Sometimes he wore as many as four suits in a day.

Chicago Greatest Stores for Luggage.

626 Michigan Ave.—South (2 Doors North of the Blackstone Hotel) 119 North Wabash Ave. (Opposite Field's)

What's doing up in Russell's room? I have been walking up and down across the street for the last ten minutes waiting for him to come out. Then I noticed a light in his room and saw a lot of strangers there.

The sleuth asked him where he was calling from and he said he was in the drug store across the street. Five men were sent after him. He escaped.

COSTLY GOWNS FOR WOMEN.

Silks and satins, gold and silver sets, of such quality as would dazzle the eyes of the hour of a sultan's harem, were found in the elegantly furnished apartments of the women members of the Irwin-Butler-Donohue gang.

Pink, blue, lavender, and cream colored negligees, all of finest texture, were found carefully packed in huge trunks.

"I want to see you at the old stand."

"GENTLE CROOK" A REAL ANIMAL, CLABAUGH FINDS

Federal Agent Convinced by Blackmail Raid "Raffles" Is Not Fiction Creation.

Hinton G. Clabaugh, division chief of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice, is convinced now there is such a person as a "gentle crook." He said last night, as he told of the capture of the blackmailers' band, he always had doubted the existence of the gentle crook until he made the Grand boulevard raid.

"I had often read of the 'gentleman crook,' the gentleman burglar," the gentleman thief, and so on," said Mr. Clabaugh. "You see quite a bit about this kind of criminal in the papers. I have always kept my eyes open in the hope I would meet one in real life, but except inside the covers of a novel Mr. Raffles always had eluded me. I began to think there 'wasn't no such animal.' Then I captured these men."

"They fill all the specification. They are 'the gentlemen crooks,' that you read about. Russell and Donohue are college bred. Both are fine looking chaps. They are unusually intelligent and well read. They talk entertainingly in the language of good society. Their talk is touched with slang just enough to make it easy."

Find Business Pays.

"Strangely to say, these men of prey justify their deeds. Their consequence does not give them a moment's worry."

"After his arrest two weeks ago I had William Butler in my office. He is a handsome man and a better educated man than nine out of ten you meet on the street. I asked him why he didn't quit and go into some legitimate business."

"What for?" he answered. "This game, you have an idea, my conscience bothers me? Not a bit. Why should I? I rob men who can afford to be robbed—men who pose as religious, highly moral, eminently respectable members of society. They are 'white' asphaltes. They give me their money because they are afraid I will expose them for exactly what they are. They are shams. At heart they are as bad as I am—worse, I think, because I will under my true colors. They are crooks."

How He Trapped the Gang.

"How did you locate the gang?" Mr. Clabaugh was asked.

"It was more or less an accident," he said. "On Aug. 18 one of my men spotted one of the gang on the street. He knew him for a chief of national reputation and 'titled' him. He connected with another thief, and the two connected with still another. The operative shadowed the men to their lodgings. He then reported to me."

"I set other 'shadows' to work. We watched our men day and night. We saw them at work in the hotels and cafes. We discovered their women confederates. It was only a little while until I knew I was on the edge of something big. I learned that the men I was shadowing were members of an international blackmail syndicate, who were being hunted in a dozen states by the smartest detectives in the government service."

CURB FOUND

Woman Equally Guilty with Men in Mann Case.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 17.—[Special.]—A. Bruce Bielaski, chief of the bureau of investigation, said tonight that the arrests of the Irwin-Butler-Donohue gang are among the first since the Supreme court handed down a decision a number of months ago making the woman in the case equally guilty with the man. Under the former decisions of the courts a woman, even though she deliberately trapped a man into a violation of the Mann white slave act so as to blackmail him, went off free.

Justice McReynolds, when attorney general, became so disgusted with the number of apparent blackmail cases which were brought before him that he determined to put an end to them and in a last case had a woman indicted for conspiracy to violate the Mann act.

He won a conviction in the lower courts and on appeal by the woman he carried it through the Supreme court successfully. Then he announced the department would attempt to wipe out the blackmail business entirely. He invited victims to turn evidence over to him, practically assuring them of immunity in case they aided the department.

RICH NEW YORK JUDGE VICTIMIZED FOR $28,000.

Woodward, Alleged Leader, Believed to Be Man Who Bought to Swindle Howard Gould.

New York, Sept. 17.—[Special.]—A wealthy New York jurist was one of the victims of the Mann act syndicate broken up in Chicago.

He was induced by a pretty girl member of the band to take a motor jaunt through Connecticut. When they returned to New York the jurist found a party of "government investigators" armed with fake warrants awaiting him. The jurist, whose name is also withheld, admitted to the federal officers in New York that he paid $25,000 in cash to the men.

William C. Woodward, hunted as the head of the gang, is supposed to be the same Woodward sought by the police as the "brains of the gang." In 1907 he went to Delancy, N. Y., who was then representing Howard Gould in his divorce suit against Katherine Clemens Gould, and demanded money from Mr. Gould for testimony.

Woodward is about 55 years old and has a long record. In 1884, under the name of "Honorable Edmond Musgrave," he established himself in a magnificent mansion in London and posed as a member of the aristocracy. The police finally broke the character of the place and discovered that Woodward and his partner had been conducting a card gambling place in which rich men had been fleeced out of hundreds of thousands of dollars. They were arrested, but skipped to South Africa and forfeited their bail.

In 1914 warrants were sworn out for Henry Russell on the charge of kidnapping Sarah L. Barmum from her home in Rochester, N. Y., and bringing her to Chicago and swindling her out of $52,000. She was found in the Maltese hotel by a lifelong friend who had followed the trail to Chicago. Assisting in this swindle were two women who were then known as Frances and Kalia Waldo, sisters. The federal officers believe that Helen Evers and Mrs. Donohue may be these same women.

RUSSIANS CLOSE
IN ON HALICZ,
KEY TO LEMBERG

With Heavy Loss on Germans and Capture 3,000—Vienna Cites Success.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 17.—Russian troops have resumed their closing in on the Galician town of Halicz, southwest of Lemberg, on the Dniester.

The war office announced today that the Russian army had dislodged from the right bank of the Zlota Lipa, northwest of Halicz, and the Russians were attacking along the Halicz-Halicz railway line.
More than 3,000 Germans were killed and twenty machine guns captured.

Russian War Report.
In the region south of Brest-Litovsk,
on the right bank of the Zlota Lipa,
southern fighting is taking place.
Our troops, having dislodged the enemy, captured part of his positions and took prisoner fourteen officers and 800 Turkish men.

In the region of the River Anarukva and the railway line from Pod-gumie to Halicz fighting continues.
The enemy here has already suffered great losses in killed and wounded and left in our hands 3,174 prisoners. The prisoners are exclusively Germans, and include senior officers. We also captured twenty machine guns and two trench guns.

[The foregoing official communication states that the unofficial report of the capture of Halicz was premature.]

Austrian War Report.
VIENNA, Sept. 17.—The official statement from general headquarters covering eastern front activities, issued today, reads:

Front of Archduke Charles Francis

part by superior forces in the triangular portion of territory southwest of Dorna Watra, between Kapuz and Cernahor, northwest of the Jablonka, north of Stanislav, in Karajewka, and southeast of Bresany. These attacks were everywhere repulsed and resulted in complete failure for the Russians, with the exception of a small, unimportant success near Lipnitsa, which was local.

The same thing took place with regard to enemy attacks on our allied fronts between Zborow and the upper

The Russians thought to carry out a master stroke on Lutsk. With this object in view they threw into the fight with other troops the newly reinforced guard divisions, which came in numerous waves against the sector between Pustomyr and Zature. In the majority of cases the enemy columns broke down at the entanglements, but in some places they succeeded in penetrating our positions. They were repulsed in counter attacks.
The field was strewn with Russian killed and severely wounded. The small number of prisoners taken tes-

LONDON, Sept. 17.—The Bulgarian pursuit of the Roumanians, who suffered during the last week one of the worst disasters of any army during the war.

Reports from allied and German that this front soon will assume the character of trench warfare.

have been badly whipped, King Ferdinand's troops on the north and northwestern fronts continue their advance.
Four more Transylvanian towns have been captured and nearly 1,000 Austrians made prisoner. This advance is admitted by Berlin.

Allies Win in Macedonia.
In Macedonia the allies continue their successes. French and Russian troops are rapidly advancing on the western end of the front and have arrived before Florina, which yesterday unofficially was reported captured.

Further east the Serbians are advancing on both sides of Lake Ostrovo, defeating the Bulgarians in engagements near Kajmakchalan. They continue to throw troops across the River Brod, where the Bulgarians are resisting them on the right bank of the stream. This advance is admitted by Berlin.

The official Roumanian statement on the day's operations as forwarded from Bucharest follows:

On the north and northwestern fronts we continued to advance.

After fighting we have occupied Tomorov, Almas, Koshalom, and Fogara, taking prisoner ten officers and 900 men and capturing much material.

In the Strin valley violent fighting continues. Bran Height, south of Barutara, which has repeatedly changed hands, remains finally in our possession. We captured seventy-six prisoners.

In Dobruja there have been engagements with advanced detachments of the enemy. Hostile aircraft dropped bombs on Constanta, killing two inhabitants and wounding four.

Allied War Report.
The French official reports on activities in Macedonia say:

On the Struma front British recon-noitering parties fought several successful engagements on the left bank of the river and made some prisoners.

From the Deles mountains to the Vardar there has been further lively cannonading by both sides.

East of the Cerma Serbian troops have reached the immediate outskirts of Vetrenik and Kajmakchalan after a series of obstinate engagements,
all of which ended to their advantage.

West of Lake Ostrovo the Serbians continue to cross the River Brod.
The artillery opened a violent fire against the Bulgarian army in the trenches on the right bank of the Brod.

Franco-Russian forces on our left wing, pursuing their rapid march,
have arrived in front of Florina.

Bulgarian War Report.
SOFIA, Sept. 17.—The war office tonight issued the following communication detailing activities in the various sectors of the Balkan war zone:

After bitter fighting in the region of Lake Ostrovo the enemy occupied Nidje Planina. On the Moglena plain we repulsed with great loss enemy hostile attacks at Babovo hill and on Kovil heights.

In the Vardar valley there were reciprocal artillery operations of small intensity on the Belaschita plain. We drove off an Italian infantry post northwest of Palnich, capturing a small party.

We occupied the town of Kavala on Sept. 12 in accordance with the agreement between the supreme army commander and the commander of the Fourth Greek army corps that the Greek troops should be transported to Germany, their transportation was begun on the 18th.

Yesterday an enemy fleet shelled the port of Kavala and the outlying districts of the town, where the battleships, in the western part, were out on fire. There was no loss of life.
Along the Danube there is calm.
In Dobruja the pursuit of the defeated enemy continues.

German War Report.

BERLIN, Sept. 17.—Field Marshal von Mackensen is pressing his pursuit of the Roumanians and Roumanians in the Dobruja, says the war office statement, which follows:

Transylvania front—The Roumanians are advancing against the Tokel sector on both sides of and above Szekelyud-Barnely.

Balkan front—The pursuit of the enemy in Dobruja continues. There have been no events of special importance.
Isolated enemy attacks on the Moglena front and northwest of Tahines lake were repulsed. Kavala is being bombarded from the sea.

LONDON CHAMBER ADVISES TRADE BREACH WITH U. S.

Plan for World Domination War Favors Abrogating Favored Nation Clause.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—Division of the countries of the world into economic strata, separated by tariff walls and classified as allies of the British empire, friendly neutrals, unfriendly neutrals, and enemy countries, is urged by the London chamber of commerce in the most complete program for British post-war trade domination yet to reach this country.

To clear the ground for this world reconstruction the chamber concludes in a special report, a copy of which has just been received here, that abrogation of all "most favored nation" treaties, including that with the United States, is inevitable.

Free trade, England's historic policy, would be abandoned under the chamber's plan, and a series of graded tariffs proposed, in line with the present war groupings of the nations. All imports, for instance, would be divided into the following classes: Wholly manufactured goods, semi-manufactured goods and articles solely used as raw materials in industries, manufactured foodstuffs and raw materials.

Division of Nations. All parts of the British empire and its allies would pay the minimum duties; friendly neutrals which allow the United Kingdom the most favored treatment would pay twice as much; other neutrals, giving preference to other powers and including neutrals which might be swung into the Teutonic commercial system, would pay a still greater surcharge; and all "enemy" countries would pay the maximum duties, running up as high as 30 per cent.

Roughly it is estimated in the report that this change from free trade to protection would net a yearly revenue of about $375,000,000.

Every precaution is urged in the report to assure neutral nations, to prevent them from making commercial alliances with enemy countries after the war to the detriment of the British empire and the allies.

To End Trade Agreements. The difficulties are spoken of as follows: "It must also be remembered that our allies have tariff arrangements still in force with other foreign countries which, it is assumed, must be abrogated before any preferential trade arrangements can be made with the British empire as a whole. In addition, the United Kingdom has 'most favored nation' clauses with certain foreign countries, including the United States. These, it is assumed, would have to be terminated, with or without compensatory advantages."

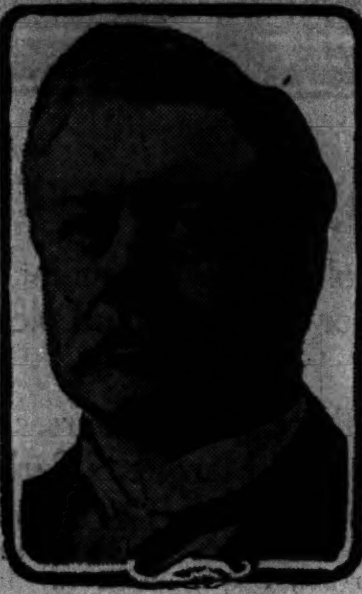

British trade domination also would be furthered under the chamber's plan by a reorganization of the consular service, anti-dumping laws, the formation of a ministry of commerce, with a seat in the cabinet, and the founding of a large central credit bank. The allies would be asked to give British shipping preferential treatment after the war and to impose special taxes on enemy shipping using their harbors.

After the War Punishments. In addition to the discriminatory tariffs, subjects of countries now at war with Great Britain would not be allowed to live or trade in England except under license, enemy business houses to do no business except under license issued against a deposit.

American trade experts are expected to show the keenest interest in the chamber's recommendations. The proposal to abrogate America's most favored nation commercial treaty with England and the plan for preferential tariffs are regarded by officials here as significant of the trend of England's economic thought and plans. The chamber's report has been called to Secretary Lansing's attention.

Seth Low

Born Jan. 16, 1850. Died Sept. 17, 1916.

SETH LOW DIES; ILL FOR MONTHS

Rounds Out Remarkable Career—Reform Mayor of New York and Brooklyn.

New York, Sept. 17.—Seth Low, former mayor of New York, twice mayor of Brooklyn, and one time president of Columbia university, died today at his country home, Broad Brook farm, Bedford Hills, N. Y., at the age of 66 years. He had been ill several months of a complication of diseases.

Mr. Low's most recent activities were exerted in an effort to find a solution of the differences between the railroad brotherhoods and the railroads. Since the beginning of the European war he had been especially active as president of the New York chamber of commerce and president of the National Civic Federation. He was chairman of the executive committee of the Tuskegee institute, delegate at large to the recent New York state constitutional convention, and a member of a government commission appointed to investigate labor troubles in Colorado.

CAREER OF SETH LOW. Seth Low was born in Brooklyn Jan. 16, 1850. He was educated at the Polytechnic Institute in Brooklyn and then at Columbia, from which he was graduated in 1870 at the age of 20.

On leaving Columbia Mr. Low took up his father's business and in 1878 organized and became the first president of the Brooklyn Bureau of Charities. In 1880 Mr. Low first became prominent in politics. He was elected mayor of Brooklyn by the regular Republican and Independent forces. In 1883 he was re-elected for a second term.

In 1890 Mr. Low was offered the presidency of Columbia and accepted. In 1901 he resigned, but continued as a trustee until July, 1914.

Elected Mayor of New York. Mr. Low was nominee of the Citizens' union for mayor of New York in 1897, but the Tammany forces defeated both Gen. Tracy, the Republican nominee, and Mr. Low. In 1900 Mr. Low ran again on a reform ticket and was elected.

Mr. Low married in 1880 Annie Wroe Bodley Curtis of Boston.

FIRMS IN U. S. FACE NEW PERIL IN TRADE WAR

Germans Threaten Suit if Contracts for Goods Are Not Fulfilled.

BY KARL H. VON WIEGAND. (Copyright, 1916, by Press Publishing Company, New York World.)

BERLIN, Sept. 16.—(Via Sayville, L. I., Sept. 17.)—American concerns doing business in Germany are confronted with a new phase of the situation created by British world trade monopolization.

Large American importing houses, who have running contracts with German manufacturers covering a period of years to take stated quantities of a product yearly, have been served with notice of intention of filing suits for the fulfillment of contracts.

One of the largest New York houses, importing annually more than $10,000,000 worth of toys, crockery, glassware, and other noncontraband, and which has an exclusive contract with numerous German manufacturers, faces a serious situation, and, I understand, has appealed direct to the president through Ambassador Gerard.

Will Hold Firms to Contracts. The manufacturers in letters to this firm express regret at the necessity for a resort to the courts to compel the fulfillment of their contracts, but say that the goods are made as ordered and delivered in Germany as contracted, that suspension of work means throwing hundreds of employees out of work.

They say they have fulfilled the letter and spirit of their contract, and if the American government does not protect the rights of American importers against British violation it cannot be expected that German manufacturers will pocket the heavy loss for that reason.

Legally the case would be so clear that the courts would be certain to give judgment against the American firm, hence the appeal to President Wilson for relief.

This particular New York house has half a million dollars' worth of goods lying at Rotterdam, which it alleges the British refuse to allow it to ship to America.

Mail Situation Little Better. I am informed at the embassy, the consular and American business houses that the mail situation is little improved. Letters addressed to Consul General Lay, mailed in America in May and the beginning of June, arrived yesterday and today. Mr. Lay is discontinuing numerous newspapers to which he is a subscriber, which, although addressed to him, have been held up for two months.

Numerous checks mailed months ago by the German government to the widows of civil war veterans or the veterans themselves, living here, are missing. A large number of checks sent from America to the Jewish relief committee for the relief of suffering in Poland are reported held by the British.

VILLA UPRISING IN CHIHUAHUA; HUNDREDS DIE

Battle on Mexican Independence Day Results in Decisive Defeat of Bandits.

Mexico City, Sept. 17.—Gen. Obregon, minister of war, announced that a thousand followers of Francisco Villa, who attacked the town of Chihuahua Friday night, were routed early Saturday morning with a loss of 600 men killed and many captured.

After the battle Gen. Trevino's troops were able to take part in the regular Independence day parade at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. During the fighting Gen. Trevino was slightly wounded in the shoulder.

Added by some of the townspeople, the Villa forces attacked at 11 o'clock Friday night and took the penitentiary and the municipal and federal palaces. Gen. Trevino gathered his troops, placed his artillery, recaptured the public buildings, and completely defeated the attackers in the early morning light. Several of the captured men already have been tried by court-martial and put to death. Others are to be tried.

Another Account.

San Francisco, Sept. 17.—(Special.)—Francisco Villa and forces numbering upward of a thousand men attacked Chihuahua City, Mexico, yesterday, according to a government official statement issued this evening by Gen. Francisco Gonzalez in Juarez. The statement says Villa was repulsed, losing 300 dead and 500 prisoners, who were immediately executed. The government casualties were not stated.

Because of the simultaneous outbreak of Villa's sympathizers in Chihuahua City, the state capital was placed under martial law and the decree was today extended to embrace the state.

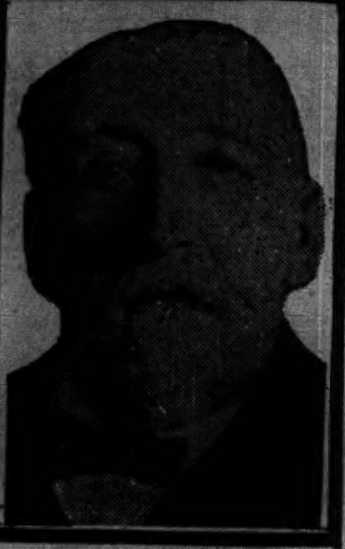

The battle, according to details made public tonight by Gen. Gonzalez, lasted thirteen hours. Villa had previously given warning he would attack on Mexican Independence day, but no weight was attached to the declaration. At 4 o'clock in the morning, however, the capital was attacked from three sides, the west, east, and north.

Liberate Convicts.

The defending troops consisted of about 3,000 men. The Villistas, with a rush into town, seized possession of the penitentiary, were aided by the prisoners, whom they liberated and partly equipped with arms. The government troops, rallying at the barracks, shelled the

CHICAGO'S FIRST PENSIONER DIES OF BROKEN HEART

John Agnew—City Employee for 64 Years—Can't Live Without Work.

John Agnew, one of the oldest pensioners of Chicago, is dead. On July 1 he resigned from the city's employ after having devoted 64 years to the service. Since 1878 he had been an inspector in the building department. Prior to that for twenty-one years he was connected with the fire department. During his entire length of service he never was absent from duty on account of sickness.

A "broken heart" is the cause attributed for his death by his son, Charles Agnew. Since his compulsory retirement on a pension his health gradually failed. "I have nothing to live for now," he said the day he left the city's employ. "I have nothing to live for now."

But Law Is Enforced.

But the municipal pension law had to be enforced. John Agnew had to step down and out. In the council chamber of the city hall a few days later, Mr. Agnew was given his first monthly pension check for $28.00. The occasion was celebrated by various speakers, including Mayor Thompson.

"Chicago," the mayor said, "has established the first municipal pension fund of his kind in any of the large cities, and today sees the concrete working of it."

Mayor Thompson congratulated him. The mayor and several aldermen congratulated John Agnew on his long and faithful service. The old man's eyes filled with tears. He could not speak.

"I have nothing to live for now," he said one day to his son, "this illness is killing me. I'm afraid I will never get used to it. What a blessing is work, work, work!"

Members of his family tried to cheer him, but failed. Each day he seemed to grow worse. His last interest in things around him.

The end came yesterday morning. His children and grandchildren were at his bedside.

Mr. Agnew was born at Dundee, Scotland, in 1831. He arrived in Chicago in 1852 and soon afterward entered the city's employ. He joined the volunteer fire department the year of his arrival and when the regular fire department was organized in 1853 he became a member of it. In 1860 he was made the city's first fire warden.

CHICAGOAN SHOWS RESULTS OF CRUSADE AGAINST VICE

S. P. Thrasher, in Lexington, Ky., Address, Tells How Committee of Fifteen Is Closing Levees.

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 17.—(Special.)—In an address here today S. P. Thrasher of Chicago reviewed the work and results obtained in the war on commercialized vice in that city by the Committee of Fifteen.

"The committee was organized in 1908, and at first devoted its efforts to the arrest and conviction of panders," he said, "but in 1912 it widened its scope to a campaign against houses of prostitution and disorderly saloons. Its main point of attack was Chicago's old segregated district, which was bounded by Sixteenth street and Twenty-sixth street and Stewart avenue and the lake."

"According to the Chicago civil service commission's report in 1911 there were nearly 20,000 professional prostitutes in the city at that time."

"The committee was aided by the passage in 1915 of the injunction and abatement laws, which gave the committee a lever with which to force the closing of disorderly houses. Under these laws the society warned the owners of property used for immoral purposes to close their tenements. If the warning was ignored the houses could be closed for one year. Since July 1, 1915, action was served on 270 houses, and 235 owners heeded the warning."

"The Kate Addams laws, providing prison terms for inmates of disorderly houses, further aided the committee in its crusade. In the last three years seventy-seven persons have been convicted of pandering. Their fines have totaled $28,000 and their prison sentences have totaled nearly forty-eight years."

"The effects of commercialized vice are shown in the reports of hospitals and physicians, who have proved that a large percentage of physical and mental diseases spread by the women of the segregated district."

"A mass and persistent campaign against commercialized vice, with no attempt to solve all the problems involved in this perplexing question, will produce results."

Peggy Cheekin, Wed. Arrested. Dr. H. H. H. (Special.)—Ray L. Warren of Vandalia, who helped the same of H. H. H. at the new state colony, to fifteen checks, was arrested and brought back to Dixon today. Warren confessed he came to Dixon on Friday, took the checks, got them cashed, went back to Vandalia on Saturday, married Lillian Murray there on Monday, and was arrested on Tuesday. His wife of a day is heart broken.

FIVE public golf courses are maintained by the City of Chicago for the health and pleasure of the people of Chicago.

In Jackson Park there are two courses, and one each in Lincoln, Garfield, and Marquette Parks.

Thus, no matter where you live, a short ride on a street car will take you to your golf club. There are no fees. The only expense is the first cost of playing equipment, which may be slight, and after that an occasional ball.

These courses belong to you; why not start now to use the one nearest your home? The game now has more adult players in America than any other sport. It's a game that everyone enjoys from the start.

From downtown, parks with golf links are reached as follows:

HARDNESS MAY IN $100,000 SUIT 'DANGER WOMAN'

Baroness of Resort, Fled from San Francisco, Siren of Hongkong.

A heroine of international fame took a day off from her duties yesterday and opened it to a picture of the Baroness May van Pallandt, van der Meer, who has just been sued by Miss Frank Gray Shaver, a woman lawyer of Highland Park, who alleged her former friend obtained this money from her through "fraud, deceit and misrepresentation."

"The Baroness against!" mused the crowd. "She's a wonder. She has been in the limelight for years, but right now, she doesn't want to be known. She says she's a woman, but she's a siren."

"There are police records concerning the woman in almost every metropolis in the world. They show that the woman, now living in obscurity in Hongkong, has been in the limelight of the same woman who married the master of the house for the Prince of Wales when Victoria was queen of England—really Mary, or May, was a girl who came to Chicago in 1890 from Monmouth, Mich.

Immense of Resort. "My home is a home of disorderly women here and after a time made her way to the continent to San Francisco, where they knew her as 'Long John'."

"That really was the beginning of her career. In the east she soon became a woman of fashion, traveling from capital to capital, always with some young man of wealth living in her train. She went through China with a succession of young men and engineers, leaving a trail of business failures and ruin. Once I traveled her there with a son of a New York millionaire, who was her husband. After that, Europe without success and afterward shot him off in the Manhattan place in New York."

In Exclusive Society. "She picked up about $10,000 during the last year of the east and used the money to invade Europe. Here she was from the entire to the most exclusive society. It was in Germany that she met the Baron de Pallandt, then master of the house, the Prince of Wales, who is now the Queen Mother Alexandra."

"Well, the Baron became infatuated and married her. That gave her opportunities to exploit the Baron's friends, which she used to great advantage. The Baron offered her $10,000 to get a divorce. She refused to give up the title but consented to a separation."

Schools Her Brother. "Then her brother Jean appeared and took a hand in her operations, posing himself as her husband to help her in the 'badger game' and other black-mailing operations. While she was in the underworld she had spent part of her earnings giving Jean an education at the University of Michigan."

"Somewhere she kept maintaining her position in the best of society. In 1901 the papers told of her 'tact' in helping a Senator in-law of the late Senator John Hanna evade writs and detective work by her husband and spirit her two children away to Europe."

Exposed in 1914. "Her real past never came to light until 1914, and then this Chicago Tribune did it. Dr. Ernest V. Appleby, a former professor of chemistry at the University of Michigan, had her arrested in London, charging a $20,000 fraud as the climax of his own romance with her."

"London cabled Chicago for information about the Baroness. This Tribune dug into her record, found the regu's gallery pictures of her in San Francisco and other cities and sent the whole story back to London—7,500 words of it. Since then she hasn't appeared to be particularly active—but perhaps this Miss Shaver could tell a different story about that."

Three Friends Invest in Cemetery and Wonder Which Will Use Ground First—Fate Answered.

Fate played a prank on Nicholas Bierchen, a saloon keeper at 6005 Ridge avenue. It happened this way:

Bierchen, with two friends, Fred Metchen, 1801 Morse avenue, and Fred Arnold, 6110 Ridge avenue, went to the Memorial cemetery, near Gross Point, yesterday, and each purchased a lot. Returning Bierchen jokingly remarked:

"I wonder who will be the first to be buried in our new lots."

Later the three engaged in a card game. Bierchen was stricken with heart disease and died in a few minutes.

DUNES PARK MEN START FIGHT FOR NATIONAL ACTION

Enthusiasts Learn Industrial Interests Are Seeking Property.

Gary, Ind., Sept. 17.—(Special.)—Organizers of the National Dunes Park association at their meeting in the Carnegie library at Gary this afternoon took initial steps to lay before the department of the interior reasons why a national park should be established in the wilderness along the southern shore of Lake Michigan.

The secretary of the interior is to hold a hearing early next month in Chicago, or Gary preliminary to making a report back to congress in accordance with Senator Tamm's resolution.

Must Fight for Park. The dunes enthusiasts were told that the organization of an association, the probable endorsement of the interior department, and favorable action already by the senate, does not mean that the park is in sight. With the exception of the recently acquired reservation at Mount Desert island, there is no public park east of the Mississippi river, and it is contrary to precedent for the government to establish parks save on lands that it owns.

Disconcerting news that the proposed site of the reservation—where some want called the Ritter National park, in memory of Indiana's dead poet—was owned by industrial moves, was told by Prof. L. F. Bennett of Valparaiso university. A Chicago syndicate has been assembling citizens on land near Tamm, in the heart of the dunes.

Tells of Mather Talk. Everett L. Mather, of Highland Park, chairman of the Chicago conservation council, outlined his recent conference with Stephen Mather, assistant to the secretary of the interior and in charge of national parks.

Mr. Mather, Thomas B. Allison of the Henry Booth settlement house, Miss Sonia Haber of the University of Chicago, Prof. H. C. Corvies of the University of Chicago, and Miss Catherine A. Mitchell of the Prairie club were signed by Provisional President A. F. Knotts as the Illinois members of a committee to get data for the government hearing. Indiana members are to be appointed.

Chicagoans Draw Bylaws. Attorney Edward M. Winston of Chicago and John O. Bowers of Chicago were designated to draw up bylaws and a constitution, to be submitted at a meeting to be held at a date to be determined later. Representatives of Chicago, Gary, South Bend, and Valparaiso organizations were present at the meeting.

Plans were discussed to create sentiment throughout the middle west for the dunes park, it being pointed out that there is no national park for the Chicago district.

JOHN HIS OWN LAWMAKER: MUST ANSWER IN COURT

Out Threats of Night Ducks and Threw Them Back Into Neighbor's Yard.

John Chiswick, 3008 Dodge avenue, Evanston, believes that if a chicken, duck, cat, or dog belonging to his neighbor, enters his property he has a right to kill it and throw it back upon his neighbor's property. He put into practice his belief last night when he killed eight ducks belonging to Joseph Edmuntski, 1008 Darrow avenue, Evanston. He cut the ducks' throats and threw them back into Edmuntski's yard. Edmuntski complained to the Evanston police. Chiswick agreed to appear in court this morning.

"SLATS" BACK IN CHICAGO AFTER SUMMER'S TRAMP.

Hobo Society? All Worked Up by Return of Member Who Took Usual Place in Cell.

Hobo society is all agog over the return to town yesterday of Mr. Thomas Slattery, otherwise known as "Slats." His coming was unannounced. Usually his return is heralded by postal card.

"For ten years 'Slats' has 'wintered' in Chicago. He is one of the 'regulars' at the South Clark street police station. In May he is seized with the wanderlust, and the station does not see him until fall.

"I've had a good season of it," said "Slats." "I left without a cent and I land back with the price of several cents."

"The big cities are booming. If I had been looking for work I could have found it."

CHICAGO WOMAN A HEROINE OF PACIFIC COAST WRECK

Miss Emma Schaffer Flays Plane and Prevents Panic While the Congress Is Burning.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 17.—(Special.)—Miss Emma Schaffer, Chicago business woman, proved herself possessed of courage and coolness on Thursday by holding the attention of women and children with selections of classical music on the plane while the blazing steamer Congress roared for shore.

Miss Schaffer, who was in her stateroom at the time the fire was discovered, came on deck lightly clad. She was unable to return to her stateroom for more clothing, but one of the crew obtained a blanket for her.

Miss Schaffer went to the plane in the social hall and played before a large audience of women and children who were reassured by her calmness.

"THE HIGHEST TESTIMONIAL WE CAN GIVE YOU IS TO SAY THAT WE ARE USING YOUR VARIOUS TYPES OF MACHINES WHEREVER MACHINING IS FEASIBLE IN CONNECTION WITH OUR ACCOUNTING AND GENERAL OFFICE WORK."

Ed. S. Atkinson, President

The Master Genius of the Automobile Industry Points Out the Direct Way to Accounting Efficiency

Mr. Durant, as President of Chevrolet Motor Company and of General Motors Company, knows every vital fact connected with the yearly output, which is valued at nearly 200 million dollars for 1916.

Efficiency is his motto. It had to be—for nothing less than the efficient use of every minute and every penny in every department of all the various enterprises with which he has been connected would have enabled him to pilot them to success—a success which is simply a reflection of the really marvelous efficiency of the man himself.

Mr. Durant knew that the average pen-and-ink bookkeeper wastes 50% of his time guarding against errors, hunting errors, and making several motions where only one was needed. He demanded an-time figures.

And so it is not to be wondered that Elliott-Fisher Bookkeeping Machines are used not only in the main office, but also in the big parts plants at Flint and other points in Michigan, and at various assembly factories throughout the United States and Canada.

The Chevrolet plant alone will turn out 96,000 cars this year and is planning for 194,000 cars in 1917. With an output of this magnitude, accounting accuracy and accounting speed are absolutely necessary.

You know as well as Mr. Durant that a bookkeeping department must measure up to 100% accuracy, speed and economy on an on-time schedule. Do, then, as he first did—investigate Elliott-Fisher. Get the facts that have taken years to collect. No charge, no obligation. Telephone Franklin 1391 for an immediate interview, or write to Elliott-Fisher Co., Room 1207 Peoples Gas Bldg., 122 South Michigan Avenue.

OF what avail are modern machines and modern safety appliances, if a factory is poorly lighted? Good lighting not only minimizes the risk of accident to employees but also eliminates spoilage—and, U. S. Government figures show that one per cent of the products of American factories are spoiled, representing an annual loss of $1,300,000.

The Roman hyacinth.

It is a potting bulb for winter flowering. The Roman hyacinth must not be overlooked.

This variety is much preferable to the Holland sort, for several reasons: It is more graceful in habit, its flowers being borne on loose spikes, instead of crowded along them, as are those of the Holland variety; that all individuality is lost. The flower is also elegant, thus allowing it to show its waxy petals to better effect, and instead of having only one spike to a bulb it usually has from three to five.

It is delightfully fragrant. A pot of it in full bloom makes a charming gift to a friend at holiday time.

You will read the catalogue that there are pink, blue, and yellow kinds, although greatest stress is laid upon the white varieties. Of course a desire for variety in color may lead you to order some of these pink, yellow, and blue kinds, but you will be disappointed in them, as without exception they are dull and dingy in tone. The white kinds are the only ones worth growing.

In different members of a congregation would not a few dozens of Roman hyacinths for church use be the most effective at very little expense? Of course this idea is not to be applied in churches where cut flower decorations can be afforded by purchase from the florist but the little country or village church may possibly gain from the suggestion.

And after the pot of hyacinths has seen duty in the pulpit it can be made to do still further duty as a gift to some member of the congregation who will appreciate the thoughtfulness which prompted its giving.

It would also suggest the potting of a few extra bulbs of the narcissus for the same reason. This flower is far preferable for this purpose to tulips or hyacinths of the island type.

One day my nephew asked me if George was his real cousin. I told him he was a friend or possibly a fourth cousin, to which he replied, "Well, he is almost a friend, isn't he?"

Fore!

There'll be a golf luncheon today at 12:15 at the Hotel La Salle given by the Indiana society of Chicago. Here's what the announcement says: "The fore-committee (by the direction of Mr. George A. Adams, president of the Indiana society of Chicago), requests that you meet Mr. Adams, the committee, and Mr. Charles Evans Jr., champion golfer of the society as well as of the world at large."

The marriage of Miss Josephine Peck, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Peck of 1424 Belle Plaine avenue, to Robert J. Wilson of Duluth, Minn., took place Saturday afternoon at the Bowen Methodist Episcopal church. The Rev. William R. Irish of Evanston, Wis., the grandfather of the bride, read the service, assisted by his son, the Rev. James W. Irish of Eau Claire, Wis.

Miss Olive R. Peck served her sister as maid of honor and Charles Peck of Marchfield, Wis., acted as best man. Josephine Peck, a cousin of the bride, was ring bearer. George B. Peck, a brother of the bride, and Foster W. Irish of Eau Claire, Wis., a cousin of the bride, were the ushers.

A reception at the residence of the bride's parents followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. John A. McGarry announce the marriage of their daughter, Josephine, to Joseph P. Callan of Milwaukee, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Behner announce the marriage of their daughter, Gladys, to E. Porter Esley.

Lay Church "Gym" Corner Stone. Five thousand persons attended the ceremonies at the laying of the cornerstone of the new Calvary Presbyterian auditorium and gymnasium at West Jackson boulevard and South Keeler avenue. The stone was laid by the Rev. Ralph D. Kearns, rector of the church, at 8 p. m. yesterday.

Bazaar to Aid Settlement. The board of directors of St. Mary's settlement and day nursery, Woman's Catholic league, announce their annual sale and bazaar for Wednesday.

Lillian's Heart Still Calls. AL and Lillian played in each other's back yards before they started to school; they were comrades through kindergarten and grade school, and chums through high school. Then Lillian went to college and Dal went to the university to study law.

Dal was not prepared, however, for a short note from Lillian in June telling him that she was engaged to Mr. Evans and would marry him in September. Lillian never heard from Dal again.

Two weeks before the wedding Lillian knew the truth. Evans could give her the wealth and social position she had thought she craved, but she could not give him her heart. Now she knew that it belonged to Dal, always had, and always would belong to him. But Dal was lost to her. He had left the town where he was working and her letter came back marked "unopened." Yes, she knew the truth too late.

Lillian has never married. Six months after she had broken her engagement with Evans he married her pretty cousin. Seven years have passed, but Dal is still first in Lillian's heart.

O, Dal, if by any chance you read this, could you, dear, to your LILLIAN.

Leave It to Him. "Dear Miss Mabel: I am a girl in my early teens, and care for a boy two years my senior, who is in our school. Now, I have never been introduced to this boy, although the desire is mutual. As we are both beautiful, what course shall I take?"

Pray tell, how do you know the desire is mutual if you haven't had any speaking acquaintance with him? Don't start out in life taking too much for granted, and where a man is concerned, don't leave too much to your own judgment, when you are but in the "early teens." Now, you know down in your heart that if this boy really and truly wanted to meet you he could easily ask one of your mutual friends to perform this necessary act, so leave it to him.

because he wished to be a lawyer, but chiefly because Lillian had said once that he wanted to marry a lawyer.

They graduated the same June and that summer the two playmates became sweethearts. But Dal would never ask Lillian to marry him.

Warren and Emily were little neighborhood children. They never got along without quarreling when together, so their parents agreed not to let them play together at all. One evening the families were in their respective back yards. There was a picket fence between them. Warren went over near the fence and shouted to Emily's father, "My Emily comes over here and looks at me!"

MARION HARLAND'S
HELPING HAND
Adopting a Child.

"In my letter I wrote about adopting a child, and asked you to print it so we might hear from some mothers on the subject. Is it best to adopt an infant or one a few years older? I have not seen my letter in your corner, and hope it will soon appear. I may have the opinion of others before I attempt to take a child into our home. W. C. F."

There are two sides to the question of age brought forward in your letter. The first two years of a child's life are full of care for the adoptive mother and she reaps but a partial reward from the immature little creature. By the time it has learned to use its limbs, to recognize its guardians, and to joy in scenes and associates, returns for labor and anxiety are abundant. Health is more nearly established and growth in intelligence is a constant delight. A volume would not contain the theories. And after all is said, the choice must be yours and the consequences of that choice be borne by yourself. We lay your wish to adopt the child before our readers and hold your address subject to the call of anybody who desires to open direct communication with you.

Author of a Poem.

"I was asked today if a poem, such as that of which ends with 'My mother,' was written by the late Hawthorne Riley. I don't know, but I hope the Corner can tell me whether this be true or not. T. F. L."

No having a volume of Riley's poems at hand I cannot answer you confidently. A friend at my elbow is quite sure that he did not write the lines. For my own part I can only say that they are new to me. Readers who are all lovers of his whose recent loss we mourn with the rest of the country be honored by living in it will answer definitely and perhaps give us more of the poem.

Dill Pickles.

"We are all fond of dill pickles, but have been unable to find a recipe for making them. We have plenty of cucumbers and should like to put them up in this way. Will you kindly publish one at your earliest convenience? C. B. J."

Make a strong brine (strong enough to float an egg) then add half as much water as you have brine. Wash the cucumbers in cold water and into a steamer put first a layer of dill, using the leaves and stems. Confine in this way until the jar is full. Pour brine over all and cover, first with a cloth, then with plastic. The cucumbers be taken off and washed frequently as in making sauerkraut.

Model of Mine Satta.

In its dense lines the Satta of a Quakeress, has a great deal of charm that is still further increased by frills of cream Valenciennes which, like the collar and cuffs, and appear as tiny flaps overlapping a narrow edge of silver ribbon. A touch of silver is repeated in the buttons.

The skirt, although draped in cascades at the side, still retains a slim silhouette, due perhaps to the exceedingly supple quality of the satin.

THE TRIBUNE
COOK BOOK
By JANE EDDINGTON

All recipes are given in household measure and are for the family of four.

Other sections are of American and "foreign" breakfast foods. One cannot find a writer of cookbooks has found the abundance of the latter one of the signs of our hopefulness.

A Rice Special.

BROWN rice, you see, is fairly common, and with a little care, it is the easiest removed from those sophisticated or denatured products called "patent." Polished rice will be by similar analogy like white flour. Now there are a large number of fancy dishes you can make with white flour and polished rice that you cannot make with graham flour and brown rice. That is not saying that the latter foods are not by far the most wholesome. If we had to depend entirely on either flour or rice for our starchy foods, I would say by all means use the graham and the brown rice, use them any way as you perfect your diet, but remember that there is a good deal of food value in both white flour and polished rice, and consider whether you will be making exactions in reference to these foods all out of proportion to what you are in reference to others.

But what I started to say was, that if I have been unjust to brown rice I duly apologize, as I am invited to do by one milling company, and also by a manufacturer's agent. The milling company says:

"We want to call your attention especially to your statement that the main result of the agitation for brown rice has been an increase in the cost of living. The brown rice which we sell retails for 10 cents a pound, which is the same price as our uncoated or white rice, and as you know 10 cents per pound is the usual price for rice."

When the demand for brown rice increases no doubt the price will go down, but just at present it is a specialty, and, as you know, requires greater care than the white rice on account of the danger from weevils. This, however, has to be borne by us as we guarantee the keeping quality of our goods and redeem them in the hands of retailers when they become weevily.

We have a special process for sterilizing rice and as a general proposition our brown rice keeps much better and cooks better than ordinary grades. At the same time, we always protect our customers, both dealer and consumer. . . . We trust you will see fit to correct the impression in your article that the use of brown rice will increase the cost of living."

All of which is a legitimate good word for brown rice.

The New Fall Blouses Complement the Suits in Colors

The blouse-story of fall fashion, as it is unfolded by every lovely newcomer to these sections, is one of infinite detail.

For it is their departure from the commonplace in the cut of a collar, the turn of a cuff, the combining of color that makes these assortments so inviting. For example—

New Arrivals Interpret Fall Fashion In Suits, Frocks and Coats for Women

THE tendency to individualize the prevailing mode is delightfully apparent throughout this newly assembled fall apparel.

Suits, responsive to the accepted in line, fabric, and color, depart in detail from the usual. Frocks grow more charming as they grow more varied in style, and coats are truly coats, rich, voluminous, luxurious looking.

At $57.50—Broadcloth Suits, Fur-Banded

The gauntlet cuffs and square collar are of velvet rimmed in skunk fur. The skirt observes a nice proportion of line to accord with the length of the coat. In navy blue, Java brown, Burgundy and black. Sketched at the right.

The vogue of velvet is visioned in early arrivals in suits at $45 to $125. Wool fabric suits vary in price from $25 to $175.

At $55—Black Satin Frocks Embroidered in Blue

Forecasting the revival of the straight line frock comes this charming mode. An inserted vestee continues into the skirt—and the collar is beige color. Sketched at the center.

Thankfulness for Gets Test of Election

ARTICLE

BY ARTHUR S. WASHINGTON, D. C. (Special.)—"Thankfulness for Gets Test of Election" is the title of a Democratic party campaign speech given by the American President Wilson at the head of the other four years' most chiefly relied upon managers and orators of the Republican administration for election and commission. The first practical step of this battle, attended by disaster to the administration of thanksgiving, the war, and the peace loving people and those who are electing Mr. Wilson to office.

MAINE'S SECRETARY OF WAR, led a contingent of volunteers preaching thankfulness for Wilson in 1912. The Democratic platform in Maine, voiced likewise by candidates for national state. The response of people of Maine and other states, for Wilson's ringing words of Maine Democratic candidate, the majority of the ticket. Moreover, public candidate rally in many years for the Republican dates than Taft's together in 1912. Now, the Democratic party to Mr. Wilson, a new to Mr. Wilson, and that Maine will be the victor.

LIED ON WILSON. The experience with this campaign, touching to a deep, perfectly good along. The only defect in lack of truthfulness. That defect could keep the people clamped the lid of all its dealings, demonstrating that "Wilson kept his word." But the truth is, people discovered that we kept our word, because we could have risked states in its own interest, while time to expose theories. Mr. Wilson occupied in making body somewhere, during several times.

WARS USED. Here are the Wilson's administration of each, and American army in each: War in Mexico against seven months. War in Mexico against seven months. War in Mexico against seven months. War in Mexico against seven months.

Totals. Even broader than the Wilson's administration, with peace with Mexico, war with Mexico, war with Mexico, war with Mexico.

FOR BAKER. Although all of have been engaged in humanity, and the administration of the record, in the manner all would disclose to the president, Mr. Wilson, who is the most successful leader.

WILSON "WAS KEPT US OUT OF WAR"

Thankfulness for Peace Slogan Gets Test in Maine Election.

COULDN'T FOOL THE PEOPLE.

ARTICLE NO. 2.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.— [Special.]—"Thank God for Wilson:
I kept us out of war."

With this campaign slogan the Democratic party is endeavoring to service the American people that President Wilson should be retained at the head of the government for another four years. It is the argument chiefly relied upon by the party managers and orators in answering the Republican arraignment of the administration for its sins of omission and commission.

The first practical test of the effect of this battle cry, however, was afforded by disastrous consequences to the administration. This gospel of thanksgiving, the Democratic leaders confidently expected, would cause
the peace loving people of Maine to elect and bless Mr. Wilson, inadvertently electing Mr. Wilson's candidiate to office.

MAINE'S THANKFULNESS.
Secretary of the Navy Daniels and Secretary of War Baker, both peace lovers, led a contingent of Democratic politicians preaching the doctrine of thankfulness for Wilson from every corner in Maine. The appeal was met likewise by every Democratic candidate for national office in the state.

The response of the peace loving people of Maine astounded the Democratic managers. With "Thank God for Wilson" ringing in their ears the votes of Maine defeated every Democratic candidate for the national and the majority of those on the state ticket. Moreover, they gave the Republican candidates the largest plurality in many years, and more votes for the Republican senatorial candidates than Taft and Roosevelt polled together in 1912.

Now, the Democratic managers are a prey to misgivings that the people are not disposed to "thank God for Wilson," and that the verdict of Maine will be the verdict of the country.

LID ON WILSON DEALINGS.
The experience of the Democrats with this campaign argument is looking to a degree. Here was a sophisticated slogan with a fine ring,
the only defect in it was a general
lack of truthfulness of assertion.
That defect could be remedied by saying the people in ignorance of the lid of secrecy down on all its dealings with other nations demonstrating the falsity of the claim that "Wilson kept us out of war."

But the truth leaked out. The people discovered that the president had kept us out of war with Germany, because Germany at no time would have risked adding the United States to its enemies. They also learned that, while devoting his spare time to expounding humanitarian doctrines, Mr. Wilson has been chiefly occupied in making war upon somebody somewhere, and frequently committing several wars at the same time.

WAR USED BY U. S.
Here are the wars waged during Wilson's administration: the duration of each, and the number of American army and marine casualties
in each:

War	Duration	Casualties
War in Mexico against Carranza	1914-1915	100
War in Mexico against Huerta	1915-1916	100
War in Mexico against Villa	1916-1917	100
War in the United States re- sulting Mexican invasion	1916-1917	100
War in Haiti, six months	1917	100
War in Santo Domingo, four months to date	1917	100
Total		300

It is worthier than Mr. Wilson's wars to Mr. Wilson's peace. While maintaining peace with Germany 100 American lives were sacrificed to the German submarine warfare. During the six months which the president called peace in Mexico approximately 150 American men, women, and children were killed by Mexicans in Mexico and along the border.

FOR SAKE OF HUMANITY.
Although all of the presidents were then waged strictly in the interest of humanity, according to Mr. Wilson, the administration is not proud of the record. It has done its utmost to suppress all information which would disclose to the people why and how the president makes war.

President, who preached the gospel of thankfulness for Wilson's peace policy, represented any revelations that would bring the great campaign slogan into disrepute that Mr. Wilson was engaged in splitting the Haitians

MRS. FUNK ASKS ROBINS DEBATE

Says Progressives Would Welcome Talk by Two Former Moose.

Mrs. Antoinette Funk, who recently made known her conversion to the cause of the Hughes campaign committee,
a series of joint debates.
Mrs. Funk, a former Democrat, was co-workers in the Progressive cause.
Mrs. Funk, who is a lawyer, has been prominent in woman suffrage lobbies
at Springfield and at Washington.

Letter to Mr. Robins.
Her letter to Mr. Robins in part follows:
"Four years ago you and I were among the millions of American men and women who believed that the dawn of a new political day had come. The bonds that were created there were broken; we were really Progressives
in 1912 as Progressives now in 1916."
The spirit has not changed—only the outward covering, the matter of name,
of association, or of circumstance.
"So I am writing you from the vantage point of our common faith. You are a hereditary Democrat; after anxious care and thought, have thrown your lot with the Republican party and have advised the people of this country that Progressives should follow Mr. Hughes, the candidate selected solely by the men who compose that inviolable government against whose insidious operations the Progressive party itself is in 1916."

HUGHES COMES TOMORROW ON SECOND CAMPAIGN TRIP.

Through Chicago Early in the Morning on Way to Peoria Rally.

Charles Evans Hughes will pass through Chicago early tomorrow morning on his way to Peoria, where he will make the initial speech of his second campaign trip. Mr. Hughes, Republican nominee for congress-at-large, and
A. T. Hart, manager of the western campaign headquarters, will head the party accompanying Mr. Hughes to the Republican state convention. The candidate will have completed 14,000 miles before he finishes his trip.

After Mr. Hughes' speech at Peoria he will leave immediately for Springfield, where he will make another talk at the state fair. His itinerary includes trips to Wisconsin, Indiana, Ohio, New Jersey, and New York.
No special reception has been planned in Chicago for Mr. Hughes, as it is understood he will go through the city at 4 o'clock in the morning. A delegation of Chicago Republicans intends to go to Peoria tonight to be on hand for the convention and the address of Mr. Hughes.

TAXI STRIKE CAUSES ROW.

Chauffeurs Draw Pistol When Others
Surround Him and Park.

Trouble between more than a dozen chauffeurs in front of the Blenheim hotel last night nearly resulted in the arrest of two of them. They are Harry Viola, 2446 Langley avenue, chauffeur for the Alcazar Motor Car service, and George Fredericks, 1367 South Dearborn street, driver for the American Auto and Taxi company. Chauffeurs for the Alcazar company are on a strike. When some passengers entered Viola's car, it was said, the other chauffeurs surrounded the automobile with their cars and refused to make a path for him. A conflict was said to have taken place, and drawn a revolver. Lieut. Edward Conway and several policemen hurried to the hotel and arrested Viola and Fredericks, one of the offending chauffeurs.

of United States," Roosevelt

CAPTURED IN CAMP

After a two weeks' search through the hunting camps of the north woods Pinkerton detectives dropped off the train at Eagle River, Wis., yesterday and arrested Harry P. Daugherty, a red chested young man in cutting top,
who seemed to be expecting them.

"Well," said Daugherty, "I'm glad to be over."
Daugherty until recently was a bookkeeper in the Gary State bank at Gary, Ind. He was known as a "model
young man" who didn't smoke, drink, or gamble, and who seemed to have but one diversion—that of buying high powered rifles and shotguns and going hunting whenever the opportunity offered.

Find $35,000 Shortage.
When he started his vacation on Aug.
28 they checked over his books and discovered a shortage of $35,000. Called back to see what was wrong, he went over the books on his own account for two days and then picked up whatever cash
he could find in the bank and disappeared. He was last seen on Sept. 1 boarding a train in Gary with three shotguns and a complete hunting outfit.

The detectives who took up the search were told that Daugherty has a heart disease and is in the hospital. This was the only thing that enabled them to recognize him.

Overlooks $18,000.
Bank officials said that when he went
he overlooked $18,000 in the cashier's cage and $4,000 in the vault. They declined to state how much he had taken.
When he was arrested he had $1,700
with him and readily confessed his guilt.

Daugherty has been married less than a year, and his exemplary habits have mystified the bank officials, who tried to find out what he did with the missing funds. Police Chief Otto Heins of Gary went after him last night.

GENERAL STRIKE OF GOTHAM UNIONS MAY BE CALLED OFF.

Chief Says Longshoremen Will Not Quit Before Thursday, if at All—Boatmen Vote for Walkout.

New York, Sept. 17.—Doubts were engaged tonight that the threatened strike tomorrow of crafts affiliated with the International Longshoremen's association, announced that the members of his union, said to number 35,000, would not be called off before Thursday, "if at all."
The Tidewater Boatmen's union, with a membership, it was said, of 5,000, to-night voted to go on strike. No date was set for a walkout. The strike, it was asserted, will not be a sympathetic
one with the car men but for better working conditions and increased pay.
The fact, the men said, that the coal supply of the city is in danger, and that the city would be in a state of chaos
if the strike were called off, was not concerned. The heads of the transportation lines declared, it was ineffective.
Service on subway and elevated was continued normal, and steady improvement was noted on all surface roads.

HE GETS TWO SUITS CHEAP.

Young Man Has Them Sent to Hotel, "Tries Them On," Vanishes.

The central police are searching for a dapper young man who inexpensively added two suits to his wardrobe. Saturday he went to the tailoring concern of the Ward Taylor company, 18 North Dearborn street, and selected two suits worth $20.
"Send them C. O. D. to C. E. Maywood, Whitehall, Mich.," he said. "I am staying at the Palmer house."
After a few alterations had been made a messenger delivered the suits at the hotel. Requesting the messenger to have a seat, he left with the clothing, saying he would try them on. They did not return. He had been at the hotel only that day.

SALOON SLAYER VANISHES.

News Will Tell Who Shot John Marchese in His Barroom.

The usual stolid silence yesterday confronted detectives who tried to find some reason for the shooting of John Marchese in his saloon at 3800 Milton avenue Saturday night. Marchese, with three bullet wounds in his abdomen, is at the point of death at the Passavant hospital.

RALLY WOMEN FOR G. O. P.

Republican Leaders Urge Large
Feminine Attendance at State Fair to Hear Hughes.

Wednesday is Republican day at the Illinois State fair at Springfield, and an effort is being made to obtain a large attendance of Republican women. Mrs.
William Severin, president of the Republican Women's Association of Illinois, Mrs. Olivia P. Frazier, president of the Illinois Republican Women's League, and Mrs. John W. Blackledge, president of the Republican Women's central committee, are working to swell
the attendance. Charles Drake Hughes will speak. A special rate of 25¢ is being offered by the railroad.

PLEDGE REGULATION

Of Private Banks in Tentative
Republican State Platform.

REGULATION to control private banks by state regulation is pledged in the tentative Republican state platform
submitted to the executive committee. Col. Frank O. Lowden has indorsed the proposed plank, which was inserted by the subcommittee
after a conference with William H. Barker, Mr. Lowden's campaign manager.

Advocates of private bank regulation say the adoption of the plank
by the state convention would be a big advance towards the passage of the desired legislation, which is considered probable that both houses of the next legislature will have Republican majorities. Hitherto there has been sufficient demerit opposition to keep any legislation on private banks out of Republican state platforms.

The subcommittee will make its report to the full committee at Peoria tonight preparatory to the opening of the convention tomorrow.

SEE ILLINOIS IN G. O. P. COLUMN

Politicians at Springfield
Roundup Plan Great Welcome for Hughes.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.
Springfield, Ill., Sept. 17.—[Special.]—
Illinois is certainly Republican in November—Republican for Hughes and Fairbanks; Republican for Lowden and
the entire state ticket; Republican for congressmen; Republican in both branches of the legislature—according
to the feeling that prevails among Republicans of every faction and element, as
the party's advance guard reaches
Springfield for the state fair.

When Charles B. Hughes reaches Peoria Tuesday he will see a Republican
working in harmony. This is another prediction made by every man that talks
politics.

Great Welcome for Hughes.

When he arrives at Springfield later
in the afternoon of state convention day
he will find that the state fair grounds
monster assemblage of Republicans anticipating for him and ready to demonstrate to the country and to the presumptive eastern Republicans that there is no sympathy in Illinois and
that the state party is prepared to show
the presidential nominee that Wilson
and Duane have no chance to carry Illinois.

Only four days have passed since the
polls closed on one of the hottest primary contests ever staged in Illinois.
Yet, if the statements of the men who
are now in the state capital are worth while, the friction engendered in
the canvass has been dispelled.

Col. Lowden's nomination for governor, it is found, is popularly demonstrated. He made the right against him
in their counties are saying that he is the strongest man who could have been nominated from the standpoint of party
success.

Ticket Well Balanced.

The state ticket is well balanced from
a geographical standpoint, and judged
by the pluralities that were rolled up
for the winners in the primaries, they
are satisfactory to the rank and file
of Republicans statewide.

It is pointed out that Chicago and
the northern part of the state share
equally in the possession of Col. Lowden
as the nominee for governor. Egypt
is greatly pleased with the big vote
rolled up for Louis L. Emmerson for secretary of state. John G. Ogilvie,
nominated for lieutenant governor by
a plurality, that will be in excess of 125,000, repeats the emphatic personal victory he won in the primaries four years ago.

Central Illinois is represented by Andrew Russell, the present state treasurer, as the nominee for state auditor;
eastern Illinois has Len Small, the nominee for state treasurer, and the present indications are that Edward J.
Brundage, who was particularly the candidate put forward by the Cook
nominee for attorney general.

McCormick Pleases Voters.

The nomination of Medill McCormick
for congressman at large is particularly
satisfactory to the former Progressives
and the Progressive Republicans generally.

The downstate vote for the renomination of B. M. Chisfield for congressman at large, but the heavy vote
that it produced for former Senator
William E. Mason seems to indicate that the party regulars are not dissatisfied with the present state legislature.

"It is a great ticket; a sure vote getter; better than any state convention controlled by a single faction could have nominated under any circumstances."

Prepare for Peoria Love Feast.

Many Republicans who are in Springfield are preparing to advance their views on the campaign trail. The love feast that will mark the state convention Tuesday morning.

Three candidates for trustees of the University of Illinois are to be nominated. The retiring three are William
L. Abbott of Chicago, Otis W. Holt of Geneseo, and Mrs. Mary E. Busby of Urbana.

Each of the three wishes to be renominated again. The Progressive Republicans want at least one of the three
and a fifth little row may be staged
before the matter is settled.

The Republican state platform is practically prepared, having been drawn
by a subcommittee of the resolutions committee named in April of which Senator
E. C. Curtis of Kankakee is the chairman.

BREAD INQUIRY ON TODAY.

The federal bread inquiry will be resumed today.

POLICE CHECK DEPOSITORS AT STATEBANK RUN

Closing Hour Stops Demands
at West Side Private Institution.

HOYNE SEEKS GINSBURGS.

Panic among Chicago depositors in private banks grew yesterday and culminated in runs on two more institutions
which, in defiance to the Jewish rule,
keep open on Sundays. Each bank managed to meet the demands of the de-positors.

Meanwhile the state's attorney's office
sent detectives in search of Morris and Samuel Ginsburg of 630 West Twelfth
street, who were called to surrender
themselves in accordance with the agreement of their attorney, Bernard
J. Hoyne, state's attorney. Hoyne
Mackey Hoyne also prepared to go before the grand jury today and ask indictments of the officers of three private banks which have failed and operations of other banks as well.

Politicians at Springfield
Roundup Plan Great Wel-
come for Hughes.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.
Springfield, Ill., Sept. 17.—[Special.]—
Illinois is certainly Republican in No-
Fairbanks; Republican for Lowden and
the entire state ticket; Republican for congressmen; Republican in both
branches of the legislature—according
to the feeling that prevails among Republicans of every faction and element, as
the party's advance guard reaches
Springfield for the state fair.

When Charles B. Hughes reaches Peo-
ria Tuesday he will see a Republican
working in harmony. This is another prediction made by every man that talks
politics.

Great Welcome for Hughes.

When he arrives at Springfield later
in the afternoon of state convention day
he will find that the state fair grounds
monster assemblage of Republicans anticipating for him and ready to
demonstrate to the country and to the
presumptive eastern Republicans that
there is no sympathy in Illinois and
that the state party is prepared to show
the presidential nominee that Wilson
and Duane have no chance to carry Illinois.

Only four days have passed since the
polls closed on one of the hottest primary contests ever staged in Illinois.
Yet, if the statements of the men who
are now in the state capital are
worth while, the friction engendered in
the canvass has been dispelled.

Col. Lowden's nomination for governor, it is found, is popularly demonstrated. He made the right against him
in their counties are saying that he is the strongest man who could have been nominated from the standpoint of party
success.

Ticket Well Balanced.

The state ticket is well balanced from
a geographical standpoint, and judged
by the pluralities that were rolled up
for the winners in the primaries, they
are satisfactory to the rank and file
of Republicans statewide.

It is pointed out that Chicago and
the northern part of the state share
equally in the possession of Col. Lowden
as the nominee for governor. Egypt
is greatly pleased with the big vote
rolled up for Louis L. Emmerson for
secretary of state. John G. Ogilvie,
nominated for lieutenant governor by
a plurality, that will be in excess of 125,000, repeats the emphatic personal
victory he won in the primaries four
years ago.

Central Illinois is represented by Andrew Russell, the present state treasurer, as the nominee for state auditor;
eastern Illinois has Len Small, the
nominee for state treasurer, and the
present indications are that Edward J.
Brundage, who was particularly the
candidate put forward by the Cook
county Republican organization, is the
nominee for attorney general.

McCormick Pleases Voters.

The nomination of Medill McCormick
for congressman at large is particularly
satisfactory to the former Progressives
and the Progressive Republicans generally.

The downstate vote for the renomina-
tion of B. M. Chisfield for congressman at large, but the heavy vote
that it produced for former Senator
William E. Mason seems to indicate that the party regulars are not dissatisfied with the present state legislature.

Prepare for Peoria Love Feast.

Many Republicans who are in Spring-
field are preparing to advance their views on the campaign trail. The
love feast that will mark the state convention Tuesday morning.

Three candidates for trustees of the University of Illinois are to be nominated. The retiring three are William
L. Abbott of Chicago, Otis W. Holt of Geneseo, and Mrs. Mary E. Busby of Urbana.

Each of the three wishes to be re-
nominated again. The Progressive Republicans want at least one of the three
and a fifth little row may be staged
before the matter is settled.

The Republican state platform is
practically prepared, having been drawn
by a subcommittee of the resolutions committee named in April of which Senator
E. C. Curtis of Kankakee is the chair-
man.

BREAD INQUIRY ON TODAY.

The federal bread inquiry will be resumed today.

POLICE CHECK DEPOSITORS AT STATEBANK RUN

Closing Hour Stops Demands

HOYNE SEEKS GINSBURGS.

Panic among Chicago depositors in private banks grew yesterday and culmi-
nated in runs on two more institutions
which, in defiance to the Jewish rule,
keep open on Sundays. Each bank managed to meet the demands of the de-
positors.

Meanwhile the state's attorney's office
Samuel Ginsburg of 630 West Twelfth
street, who were called to surrender
themselves in accordance with the
agreement of their attorney, Bernard
J. Hoyne, state's attorney. Hoyne
Mackey Hoyne also prepared to go before the grand jury today and ask in-
dictments of the officers of three private banks which have failed and op-

FIRE INSURANCE DAY PLANS MADE IN MANY STATES

Yearly Cleanup Set for Oct. 9, Chicago Fire Anniversary; Education Doing Good.

BY C. M. CARTWRIGHT.

Each year practically has been made in almost all the states as a national fire prevention day. It is the anniversary of the big Chicago fire of 1871, and that was the largest catastrophe of the kind for many years. Oct. 9 seems most appropriate for the observation of the principles and practices of fire prevention. Illinois, therefore, declared Oct. 9 as its fire prevention day, when business men and householders can pay a visit to eliminating any superfluous clutter from their premises, getting rid of rubbish and debris of various kinds, all of which contribute to fire hazards. Fire insurance people believe the observation of this day has wrought much good in the campaign against fire waste.

School Children Instructed.
Children in the schools are told the simple fire prevention principles and in returning to their homes they become missionaries for the cause. Superintendents of factories and industrial plants make it a point to have an inspection made and see what can be done to lessen hazards. The state fire prevention associations and state fire marshals are emphasizing again this year the desirability and necessity of paying even greater attention to the ordinary fire hazard and thus eliminating the most dangerous factors in fire causes.

This year the fire prevention day has been reinforced by organizations that are particularly interested in accident prevention by urging people also to make observations of the most apparent fire hazards and do something to lessen them. The national safety council and other associations are doing much to stimulate interest in the cause.

Illinois Lightning Fires Severe.
State Fire Marshal Walter H. Bennett of Illinois calls attention to the severe lightning fires that have taken place in the state. In August, for example, the lightning loss amounted to $250,000. He says in his report that 25 per cent of the entire fire loss for August was caused by lightning. This includes the Cook county losses. Outside of Cook county the lightning loss would comprise about one-third of the entire total. This is the largest lightning loss that has been reported to the state fire marshal's department.

Fire Marshal Bennett calls attention to the fact that property installed lightning rods afford adequate protection from lightning. In his report he shows that the 228 lightning fires in August, the buildings were not provided with rods. The state fire marshals have been making a close examination of the efficiency of lightning rods and have all come to the conclusion that where property is installed with standard rods there is little danger.

Risk in Auto Risk Rates.
As soon as the National Automobile Underwriters' conference passes on the new rates adopted by the western conference for Chicago, they will be in effect. The rates have been based on full coverage automobile policies in Cook county, due to effective automobile thefts. They range from 25 cents up to $2.25. It is thought the new rates will go into effect about Oct. 15.

The records of the automobile underwriting companies show that the thefts are prevalent especially on the cheaper class of cars. This is because they are more numerous, less easily identified, and more readily sold. The Automobile Protective and Information bureau of Chicago, which was organized by companies writing automobile insurance, has done much to recover stolen cars. Thus far in 1916, however, nearly 600 cars have been stolen in Chicago which have not been recovered. This only includes the cars that are insured.

This is the second week of the great national conventions of insurance people. The National Life Underwriters' association will meet in St. Louis, the International Association of Casualty and Surety Underwriters and the National Association of Casualty and Surety Agents will gather at White Sulphur Springs, and the Western Union, the large legislative western fire insurance organization, will meet at Hartford, Conn. The National Life Underwriters' association will be the largest of the meetings this week. President Wilson will be the main attraction Wednesday. The president of the life underwriters' association is Edward A. Woods of Pittsburgh. The only candidate mentioned to succeed him is John Newton-Russell of Los Angeles.

OUTSIDE BUYING DEMAND SHRINKS IN WHEAT TRADE

Long Liquidation Is Factor; Balkan News Aids Bears;
Corn Irregular.

A smaller volume of outside buying, with considerable liquidation by long, checked the upward movement in wheat last week. Several of the big bull leaders still have their lines intact, with big profits, but many long have sold out, not because of a radical revision of their views in regard to the ultimate course of prices but on account of the smaller trade and the bearish attitude of some of the big interests.

From a cash trade standpoint there is no material change in the situation. There is a fair run to the ultimate course of prices this season of the year. In places there has been a little easier tone, but the cash market, with big premiums a trifle lower than the recent high point. In the northwest the percentage of spring wheat of milling quality is small and the northwest mills continue to pay fair winter in large volume.

Northwest Mills Near Wheat.
In addition to the export buying, which apparently is taking care of all the wheat offered, the northwest buying will be a tremendous influence in the market. Nebraska and Kansas have about the only surplus. It is possible that to the extent of supplies of winter wheat grain will be shipped from the Pacific coast and also from Canada, as some of the lower grades of Canadian wheat are selling at unusual discounts. There also may be some buying of Canadian wheat of better quality. Outside of the west and southwest there is heavy movement. At present there is a fair run to the west and south-western markets, as prices have been high enough to encourage selling by the farmers, but a gradually dwindling movement is to be expected, while from all appearances, foreigners will take all the wheat offered.

Frost Hurt Believed Small.
Frosts over the corn belt gave the shorts a little scare, but damage so far as known appears to be light, with the greater part of the crop too far along to be seriously hurt.

There is little relief in demand to ocean wheat scarcity. Some reduction has been made in Argentine freights, but
